1. A Brief Introduction to the Department:

- Commerce, has taken prominence in recent years leaving no field of study and research left untouched. The discipline of Commerce is used throughout the world as an essential tool in numerous fields including Business, Trade, Finance, Social Science etc. Study of Commerce provides not only the knowledge of subjects but also helps, directly or indirectly, to develop a skill- set needed to deal with issues of business, day to day work and in various other fields too.
- The Department of Commerce was started in Kalindi College in the year 1977, with one section of B. Com (Prog.) and only one lecturer Ms. Manju Gambhir. She was taking care of all the activities of the department. The department kept expanding with time, with one more section of B.Com (Prog.) being introduced later, and subsequently more faculty members joined.
- In the year 1998, B.Com. (Hons.) was introduced in the college with one section. Many activities have been introduced in the Commerce Department since its inception. It has flourished in academic and cultural activities. Today it is considered as one of the well-established departments of the University of Delhi.

Opportunities:

Commerce is an emerging and very wide area for career opportunities in India and abroad. After doing their Bachelors in Commerce, students have numerous career opportunities both in public as well as private sectors. Commerce graduates are eligible for various Master level courses like M.Com., MBA, MHROD and MIB, which are especially relevant for commerce students.

2. Scope of the Subject:

The study of Commerce provides students with:

- An understanding of the modern concepts and techniques of business and management.
- Prepares the students to explore the new sources of knowledge to grasp emerging issues in business.

This course is an excellent combination of papers related to the contemporary world scenario which prepares students to face any competition either in higher studies or in seeking job/ career.
