Conclusion:

Conducted on the occasion of the 75th Independence Day, the event “One India: A Celebration of Poetic Diversity through Translation” helped to establish the diversity of the nation as much as its oneness. It rejuvenated the concept unity in diversity when students from different regions of the country came together because of their common interest in poetry and shared with others the emotions instilled by the poems and cultures of their regions through a rendition of the original poems and their translations. It was also an occasion to help revive lesser-known languages, some of which are increasingly falling out of use, and realize how languages that hold a part of our cultural identity. The 75th Independence Day was thus celebrated through rich verses which left us all with a renewed sense of pride and patriotism.
