ABOUT FINANCE CELL

धन-Verse, Finance Cell of the Department of Commerce. Finance cell was introduced in the year 2022 with the purpose of enhancing the financial knowledge of students through various events, activities, and knowledge sharing sessions and would also deal with the financial ideologies in and around the world.

ABOUT THE THEME OF THE EVENT

"Be realistic about potential market returns, and be aware of possible risks."

धन-Verse, Finance Cell of the Department of Commerce is beyond elated to announce its first inter college paper presentation competition on the topic of Concurrent Financial Issues and Challenges.

- Financial intermediation and financial services industries have undergone many changes in the past two decades due to deregulation, globalization, and technological advances. The framework for regulating finance has seen many changes as well, with approaches adapting to new issues arising in specific groups of countries or globally. A well-developed financial system is important and contributes to economic growth through an efficient allocation of resources and saving mobilization.
- A stable and sound financial system helps ensure good corporate governance and management of the risk inherent in financial intermediation. The role of financial intermediaries remains at the centre not only in developed economies but also in a developing economies like ours. This is essential to help pool resources and promote entrepreneurial practices. No country in the world has achieved higher growth without having a developed and stable financial system.
- Investors generally do not behave as predicted by traditional financial theory, in which each individual behaves rationally to maximize utility. Rather, people often behave irrationally and let emotions get in the way, especially when the economy is experiencing some chaos.
- There are many theories and concepts like Behavioral finance that shows people, rather than being merely risk-averse, are actually more loss-averse. This means that people feel the emotional pain of a loss much more than the pleasure gained from an equal-sized profit. Not only that, but loss-aversion describes peoples' tendency to sell winners too early and to hold on to losses for too long; when people are in the black, they act risk-averse, yet when they're in the red they become risk-seeking.
